

Untamed Salon Series

Ideas and conversation, for and by Adirondackers.

A new salon series from Adirondack Center for Writing will invite discovery, conversation, and discourse between neighbors, strangers, and friends. Do you want to share your ideas, performances, or personal history with the public? Local writers, academics, historians, storytellers, and all wanting to share their talents are invited to pitch presentations for a slot in the salon series. Presenters are expected to have an element of their own written work included. The goal is to engage in written material in new and creative ways. For example, a pitch could include multiple authors speaking on a theme, or a multi-disciplinary approach such as pairing storytelling and another art form like dance or music.

Our review committee will choose the presentation for each date. When pitching your idea, be sure to note the date(s) that you are committing to be present. Presenters will be notified of selection within one month of submitting. Pitches that include unique collaborations, and fresh presentations of material will be given preference during selection. Seasoned presenters are encouraged to think outside of the box and include new collaborators and media to liven up work that might be familiar.

Dates. Salons will take place on May 18, June 14 at Lake Flower Landing in Saranac Lake, NY.

Application for Untamed Salon Series

Note: Pitches that include unique collaborations, and fresh presentations of material will be given preference during selection. There is no fee to the presenter for participation.

Full Name:

Title of presentation:

Description of presentation:

Plans for collaboration (ex. people, organizations, content):

Tech requirements:

Do you plan to have any sales at this event? If so, what are you planning to sell?:

3-5 Keywords (ex. literature, culture, food, local history):

Date(s) requested

